MORRISVILLE

Walter F. Churchill returned Monday night from a few weeks' trip through the West. Missie Robinson returned from a few days' stay

Mr. Moody will entertain the M. Slocum Class at her home on Wednesday, Nov. 8.

F. M. and H. F. Ober were in Milton Tuesday, where they delivered a monument to Hiram Parkhurst.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Beard and family visited their daughter and sister, Mrs. Beulah Allen, in Walden on the first of the week.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. G. M. Powers very pleasantly entertained 12 ladies, members of the high school faculty, at her home on Congress street.

G. E. Rice has opened a restaurant, "The Cozy Lunch," in the Emmons building on the corner of Portland and Bridge streets.

Arthur Gilbert, who has been employed by James King, has completed his duties and returned to his home in Johnson.

Mrs. Minnie Smalley returned home Monday from a several days' stay with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Helen Russ, at Stowe.

Mrs. George Baker and daughter, Miss Agnes Edgerton, went Monday to Scituate, Mass., for a several weeks' stay with relatives.

Charles Andrews returned Monday to his home in Scituate, Mass., after a few days' stay with his sister, Mrs. George Foss.

Women voters of Morristown are requested to meet at the town hall tomorrow, Thursday, at 2:00 p. m. and talk over the issues of the campaign and how those issues concern women and the home.

At the last meeting of Goddard Seminary, Calif Memorial project, five new trustees were elected. Among those re-elected was Rev. George F. Fortier of Morristown.

Women voters of Morristown are requested to meet at the town hall tomorrow, Thursday, at 2:00 p. m. and talk over the issues of the campaign and how those issues concern women and the home.

The ladies of the Morristown Cemetery Association wish to thank all who in any way contributed for the rummage sale, held the past week. This sale proved to be one of the most successful held in several years. They feel assured that enough money was cleared to enable them to purchase the gateway and arch for Riverside cemetery. This will be appreciated, not only by the association, but by the entire community.

The lecture course committee of the Women's Club will canvass the town for the sale of tickets the last of the week. A very attractive course has been provided. A noted violinist on Nov. 14; Swiss yeodlers on Jan. 25; Plymouth quartette on Feb. 8; Dr. Lichtner on Feb. 27, are on the program. Everybody is asked to be ready to help the club and enjoy the benefit of these entertainments, which are among the best the bureau affords. Don't forget the first entertainment on Nov. 14.

COMING TO VERMONT

The New Commander, American Legion, Owsley, and Judge Landis Coming to Burlington.

Alvin M. Owsley of Texas is coming to Burlington, as is also Judge K. M. Landis, baseball's generalissimo, said Commander Allen Fletcher and his buddies, when their specially-chartered steel baggage car pulled in early one morning last week.

The Legionnaires are in the pink of condition and thoroughly enjoyed the trip South and while some of the Vermonters stopped off on the home trip, the Burlingtonians all mustered at the Union Station to report home.

National Commander Owsley is the major figure among the group of Legion men who will be in Burlington in January for the mid-winter conference of the Vermont department of the American Legion and Women's Auxiliary. Judge Landis, idol of the baseball world, also promised Mr. Fletcher that he will be on hand for the mid-winter conference.

Dr. Robert C. Blood of Concord, N. H., New England's only national vice-commander this year, who was commander of the New Hampshire department of the Legion in 1921, and Russell G. Creviston of Indianapolis, Ind., will be prominent veterans to attend the conference in Burlington.

The Vermont delegation of Legionnaires left Burlington in their baggage car on Thursday, Oct. 12, and reached New Orleans on Sunday, Oct. 15. The Green Mountain Boys, after a canvass of the situation, swung to Owsley and cast their votes for him as national commander. Commander Fletcher describes him as "a wonderful chap."

National Commander, Owsley as head of the Legion's Americanization committee, spoke in Rutland and Bellows Falls before Legion gatherings last May.

It is the opinion of the state Legion men that W. F. Deegan of New York, who opposed Owsley for national commander, had criticised Col. Charles R. Forbes, head of the United States Veterans' Bureau, too severely and thereby lost popularity.

While in New Orleans the Vermont Legionnaires were hosts to Major Andrew W. McShane, who declared to Mrs. Cornie Glynn Cocklin of Rutland, president of the Auxiliary in Vermont, that her fellow statesmen were among "the cleanest and most manly at the convention." P. A. Best, formerly of Franklin county, a director of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce, a banker, traction magnate and prominent hotel stockholder, fated the Vermont Legion men during their sojourn at his hotel, the St. Charles, where they established headquarters.

"Vermont fixes us up after we're dead, that's where the granite tombstones come from," was the greeting accorded the Vermont boys as their baggage car passed through communities below the Mason Dixon line.

LACKARD-HODGES

The wedding of Miss Grace Vivian Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hodges, to Frederick William Lackard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lackard of Morristown, took place Monday morning at seven o'clock at the Church of the Holy Cross. The Rev. P. E. Bolvin of Hyde Park performed the ceremony. The bride was attired in a navy blue suit with hat to match, and the couple were attended by Miss Mabel Lackard and William Hodges, sister and brother of the bride and groom. Mrs. Lackard was graduated from Peoples Academy, class of 1921, since which time she has been employed as stenographer in the office of the Farmers' Cooperative Creamery Assn. The groom is one of Morristown's hustling young business men, being in the firm of Fred Lackard & Son, garage. He received his education in the high school in Stowe. After a short wedding trip spent in Boston Mr. and Mrs. Lackard will reside in Morristown. The couple are among Morristown's most highly esteemed young people and a host of friends extend congratulations and best wishes.

Fire at Greensboro

The M. W. A. building at Greensboro Bend, owned by R. A. Ritchie, and comprising the hall upstairs and three tenements beneath, occupied by A. G. Cox and Frank Willey, was destroyed by fire the evening of Oct. 21. The cause of the fire is thought to be an over-heated stove in the hall, a fire having been built to warm the hall for the moving picture show in the evening.

Mr. Cole's house close by and the Methodist Episcopal Church both took fire several times, but by hard and persistent work it was put out.

The tenants saved most of their goods, but the hall fixtures and picture machine were all burned. It is understood that the picture man had no insurance, but the building was valued at $5,000 and was insured for $2,900.

Difference in County Tickets

This paper is requested to state that the democratic county ticket is the same as the republican county ticket except three names: M. B. White for senator in place of B. E. Reynolds; Walter Strong for state's attorney in place of W. E. Tracy, and Jonas Stevens for sheriff in place of E. E. Holmes.

If you don't believe that the law of supply and demand regulates prices, just try to buy a drop of "hooch."

Some people find both pleasure and profit in taking things as they come, until the judge calls a halt.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DRIVE

For Membership a Great Success—220 Memberships and 140 Actual Members

The membership committee is to be congratulated upon its success in securing these pledges and the town upon the way its citizens have responded to this effort to do something to make it a better and more prosperous community.

The next meeting of the Chamber will be held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 15, the place to be announced in next week's paper.

The Chamber of Commerce is already bearing fruit. It is getting no end of free publicity for Morrisville as will be seen from an editorial in the Barre Times printed in the St. Albans Messenger.

"Build and Boost Morrisville," says an advertisement in The Morrisville Messenger, and the advertisement itself shows plenty of vitality. That there is some prospect of bringing the slogan into reality seems likely inasmuch as one company proposes to take on eighty men. There are 240 odd cities and towns of Vermont which need the boomer and the booster spirit just now.

PRE-HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL

A pre-Hallowe'en social was much enjoyed by the Baraca and Philathea Classes of the M. E. Church Tuesday evening, Oct. 24, at the home of Mrs. Carrie Call. Miss Beryl Cram, Mrs. Carrie Call, Mrs. Katie Moffatt and Mrs. Mae Ring were the hostesses, and much credit is due them for the splendid time which they gave the young people.

The guests were guided to the home of Mrs. Call by an old witch, where they were received by three ghosts. The house was prettily decorated with Hallowe'en decorations.

During the early part of the evening the classes elected their officers for the coming year. The meeting was opened by Scripture reading, the Lord's Prayer and a song.

After the business meeting games were played and refreshments of cocoa with marshmallows and wafers were served. The remainder of the evening was spent in sitting around the candle light eating apples and home-made candy and telling stories and singing. The darkey whose name he gave as snowball added a great deal to the entertainment with his funny jokes, etc.

After the good-night story told by Miss Cram everyone went home feeling that they had spent a most wonderful evening and wishing they would be entertained again in the near future.

The following officers were elected for the coming year by the Philathea: President, Mrs. Carrie Call; vice-president, Miss Beryl Cram; treasurer and secretary, Mrs. Katie Moffatt; committee to entertain in November at the regular monthly meeting, Mrs. Pearl Mead and Miss Bertha Ward, with Versal Grant and Clarence Wedge from the Baracas. A unanimous vote was cast for Mrs. G. S. Stanciliff to remain as teacher and Miss Oliva Allen as assistant teacher.

The Right Kind of Club Spirit

The Madison Willing Workers' Club, Rutland, Miss Catherine Purcell, leader, voted at a recent meeting to give $5.00 to the Mansfield Poultry Club of Chittenden County, which is raising money to purchase an artificial leg for one of its members. This vote was passed upon recommendation of members of the demonstration team, who went to the State Fair and met the members of the Mansfield Poultry Club team.

HYDE PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Will Putnam are in Burlington today.

R. W. Grant was in Montreal several days last week.

Arkley Horner returned from the hospital this morning.

Banking houses with spruce boughs is very fashionable these days.

Miss Dixon of the L. C. A. spent Sunday at her home in Island Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Covey of Concord, N. H., were Wednesday visitors at Bert Crowell's.

Deputy Game Warden Stevens was in Belvidere Thursday looking up the illegal shooting of a deer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Minor and John, Jr., were in Burlington the first of the week to call on Miss Helen.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. McFarland are now located in their winter home—apartments over the insurance office.

This is gentlemen's night at the Hyde Park Inn, one of the many events of the Woman's Home Culture Club.

Last Wednesday was the 30th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Noble of Jeffersonville, former residents of this place. In honor of the event they spent the day in Hardwick. Their many friends in this place, their old home town, congratulate them and hope they will enjoy many more anniversary days.

County Clerk Waite delivered the ballots necessary for the election next week to the several towns in the county. Those for him to distribute were the U. S. senator, congressman, state and county officers. The town clerks provide the representative and justice ballots.

Next week will be busy times for the Rebecca Lodge. On Wednesday evening they confer the degree upon three candidates and the following evening a class of nine from Cambridge will receive the degree. The latter are the nucleus for a lodge at Cambridge.

HYDE PARK LOCALS

Home Culture Club Banquet Tonight—Republican Rally at Court House Saturday Afternoon—New Realty Company Formed—Rev. Mr. Hayes Candidate for Pastorate for Congregational Church.

Will Larock has moved back from his farm to his village home.

H. M. McFarland transacted business in Westford Saturday.

U. S. Senator P. J. McCumber of North Dakota and wife were recent guests of Senator Page.

Mrs. L. M. Drew and daughter have returned from a few days' visit with relatives at Pittsford.

S. B. Waite attended a meeting of the republican state committee at Burlington last Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Denio were Sunday visitors at the home of their niece, Mrs. Annie Darling, at Waterbury.

The Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. D. H. Scribner tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon. All members are urged to be present. Important business.

Mrs. Horner spent Saturday and Sunday with her husband, Arkley Horner, who has been at the Fanny Allen hospital for treatment. They are expected home this evening.

It is expected that Rev. Mr. Hayes will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational Church next Sunday morning. He is an interesting speaker and should be given a good audience.

A carload of coal, the first to arrive here since last spring, put in an appearance last week. W. D. Strong parceled it out in homeopathic doses. There are hopes of another installment soon.

George Seymour and family are moving back to the farm recently occupied by Mr. Seymour's son, Wallace, who is moving to the village to the tenement in the L. S. Griswold house vacated by his father.

Rev. Mr. Hayes of Waterbury occupied the pulpit of the Congregational Church again last Sunday morning and delivered a very interesting discourse from the text, "Did Not Our Hearts Burn Within Us."

The schools in town were dismissed Friday afternoon to permit the teachers to attend a teachers' meeting held at the L. C. A. building under the direction of Supervisor Smith.

Both the nominees for representative from this town, Rollie Crocker, republican, and Frank Stewart, democrat, are exemplary young men. However, it is in all fairness that the election should go to the first named, for the reason that the north village is entitled to the same, this end of the town having had several representatives in succession. There are other reasons, among them Mr. Crocker being a representative farmer and most of all he is the republican nominee. So give "Rollie" a rousing vote.

Old-Time Resident Dies

Miss Cleora Crowell, whose death was noted last week, was born in Hyde Park Feb. 4, 1844, and a daughter of the late John and Arvilla Crowell, old-time residents of this place. Although at the Old Ladies' Home at St. Johnsbury for the past few years, Miss Crowell was always lovingly remembered by her Hyde Park friends. The end was peaceful. Like one falling asleep and waking up on the other side, she reached her Heavenly Home she so much longed for.

L. C. A. NOTES

A very large and attentive audience witnessed the production of the "Flittery Fligster" at academy hall last Friday evening. The success of this event was helped by the enthusiastic manner in which all those present entered into the social hour which followed. Refreshments were served, after which all engaged in card playing or dancing. The evening was as great a success financially as in every other way as the proceeds will net about $40. Those who were in charge wish to take this opportunity to thank the townspeople for their support in the project which represents so much work and effort.

Mrs. Rebecca Goddard is stopping for a while with her son, Dr. A. M. Goddard, at Morrisville.

Pearley Waterman of Boston spent a few days recently at the home of his sister, Mrs. Stella Goddard.

Thomas Hanley has rented the east tenement in the Odd Fellows' block and Perry Foster is putting the same in order for occupancy at an early date.

Frank Stewart, R. W. Hulburd, B. W. McFarland, D. H. Scribner and R. S. Page attended the Middlebury-Norwich football game at Northfield last Saturday.

Arthur Twiss attended the banquet and reception given at Burlington last Saturday night by the Free Press Association at the Hotel Vermont in honor of two of its employees who have been in their service half a century.

A temperance meeting was held last Sunday night by the Y. P. S. C. E. Professor Martin was the leader and gave an instructive address on "A Saloonless World and How to Get It." Several others had part and a very interesting meeting was the result.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Loren Ostrom of Schenectady, N. Y., and Miss Ruth Ellsworth, which occurred at the home of the bride at Saratoga, N. Y., Oct. 7. The bride was a former domestic science teacher at L. C. A. Best wishes from a host of friends here.

Mrs. A. Botsford and daughter, Catherine, of St. Paul, Minn., have been spending the past week here at the Hyde Park Inn. They are representatives of the Webb Publishing Co. of St. Paul and are canvassing this county in the interest of the above company.

It is hoped that every female voter will see to it that not only herself, but her minor factor, if she has such, gets out to vote next Tuesday. We believe the majority, if not all, women are against any tinkering with the Volstead act—the law which put prohibition on the map.

Thomas Black of this town, having decided to become a citizen of the United States, was in Burlington last Thursday to receive further promotion along that line before the U. S. court. When men like Mr. Black come to us from across the border seeking citizenship they receive a hearty welcome.

Remember the republican rally at the court house next Saturday afternoon. All in favor of good citizenship and the retention of the Volstead law are invited to attend. And the ladies should not forget that now they are on a level with men, politically, and should show their interest by attending this meeting.

Important Church Meeting

Rev. E. C. Hayes, who has been supplying at the Congregational Church for the past few weeks, has decided to become a candidate for pastor and a meeting of all who may be interested has been called by the business committee to consider the matter, Thursday evening at 7:30 at the home of D. H. Scribner. It is hoped a large number will be present.

"The Lamoille Realty Company"

"The Lamoille Realty Company" is the latest industry added to Hyde Park. This is the name of a company organized for the purpose of "buying, selling, manufacturing and dealing in lumber products of all kinds; acquiring, selling and disposing of timber lands and real estate; and acquiring and developing water power and water privileges. The company has been incorporated at $5,000 in 50 shares of $100 par value each. The incorporators are F. P. Collins, H. C. Fisk, Jr., Mary F. Scribner, Frank J. Stewart and Charlotte M. Irish. The incorporators are a live progressive bunch and undoubtedly there will be something doing along the lines of their character. The stock is selling rapidly.
